Adult Education and Literacy Program

Watauga, Texas- The Adult Education and Literacy program is an instructional, training, and support related service for adults funded by the Tarrant County Adult Education & Literacy Consortium in partnership with Fort Worth Independent School District, Birdville Independent School District, The Learning Center of North Texas, Arlington Independent School District, the Tarrant Literacy Coalition, the Arlington Public Library and Tarrant County College.

The program is for adults who are not enrolled in secondary school, who lack the educational skills expected of a high school graduate and who are unable to speak, read and write the English language, or compute and solve problems that impairs their ability to become self-sufficient, obtain/retain employment, or enter college. The program is also for adults who are currently in a workplace and in need of English or employment skills to retain or advance in their employment through workplace literacy.

Workplace Literacy can provide instruction to improve English language skills for students with English as a second language. It can also provide employment skills and training that leads to an industry recognized certification to assist with retainment or advancement of current employment. Workplace Literacy can provide classes onsite for the employer customized to the needs of the business. Instructors and curriculum are provided onsite by the program at no cost to the employer. Additionally, training opportunities can be identified and provided to enhance the employee skills and add value for the employer.
